Fabric and Notions:

- Starmaker 6 (Ruler)
- Luna Fabric: 1 1/4" Strip
- Lagoon Fabric: 1 1/4" Strip
- Cobalt: 3" Strip (Background)

Instructions:

- Cut a Luna and Lagoon strip each being 1 3/4" x 18"
- Sew together into a strip set.
- Press the seam allowances toward the dark fabric. (Press from the right side with no steam.)
- Place the dotted line on the Starmaker 6 along the seamline.
- Cut the ends of the strip set. Turn the Starmaker 6 over and line the outside with the previously cut edge with the dotted line along the seamline. Make sure that when you cut it makes a perfect diamond.
- Place the 3 diamonds into a design.
- Sew together using Kaye's Y-seam technique. See the back page for instructions.

- Can make 3 variations

Background:

- Cut two 1 1/2" x 7" pieces of the Cobalt fabric.
- Sew these strips to the sides of the cube.
- Press seam allowances toward the strips.
- Trim the ends with the Sarmaker 6.
- Cut two 3" x 7" pieces.
- With the wrong sides together, cut diagonally from corner to corner using the Sarmaker 6 for an accurate angle.
- Sew these corner pieces to the cube by matching the sides. The top and bottom will overlap.
- This will give you the four corner pieces needed.

Square the block to 6 1/2".

Perfect Y-seams:

- Sew diamonds B & C together. Press the seam allowances open.
- Line up all sides of the A diamond, right sides together, underneath the B diamond.
- Start sewing at the edge. Stop sewing with the needle down in the center of the seam allowance between the B & C diamonds.
- With the needle still down in the center of the seam, fold the B diamond and line up the edge of the C diamond with the A diamond. Sew to the end and press the seam allowances away from the A diamond.
